RAG OF CLOTH MURDER CLEW

Clutched in Hand of Slain Girl,
It May Lead to Tracing Murderer.

HAD FOUGHT SLAYER

Indications That Young Woman Had Battled Hard for Her Life—Man's Broken Watch Chain Also Found Near Body.

New York.—The body of a beautiful and well-dressed woman was found in a clump of bushes on the Palisades near Cliffside, N. J. She was between 18 and 20 years of age.

A few feet from where she was found was evidence that she had fought a desperate battle with the slayer.

The victim was identified by William F. Ehrmans of New York City as that of his 20-year-old daughter, Florence. He said she had been missing from home for several days.

Clutched in her hand was a fragment torn from a dark blue coat, supposedly worn by the man who attacked her.

Hanging on a trampled group of ox-eyed daisies was a man's watch chain. Her right hand was covered with blood. This watch chain is closely guarded by Acting Prosecutor Charles J. McCarthy of Bergen county, New Jersey, as the likeliest clew to the young woman's murderer.

Has Peculiar Links.

It is eight inches long, with a round gold buttonhole bar and three small rings at each end, and at the other a round catch connection with another chain. The links are rolled in a peculiar fashion.

Near the chain was found a yellow comb. County detectives believe that in her death struggle the young woman tore the chain from her assailant's lapel. The ground showed that the body had been dragged six feet from where the struggle took place.

A little boy, Louis di Sciascio, son of a Cliffside Park contractor, playing in the bushes, found the body. He told Policeman William O'Brien.

An examination by County Physician William E. Ogden disclosed that the young woman's skull was fractured.

Dr. Ogden said that her assailant must have been infuriated during his attack. The front part of the skull had been badly battered, probably with a stone, while the back of the head had been split by contact with a rock.

There were many indications that the young woman had stepped from an automobile shortly before the attack. She was not shod for walking through rough ground.

Had Lain Several Days.

Opinions differ as to how long the body had lain where it was found. The county authorities thought that it had been there for a week or more. Private physicians figured the time at two or three days.

The place where the body was found was an undergrowth of bushes in a vacant block. The body was found in a small clearing. The nearest house is 200 feet away.

In a small clearing were found signs of the struggle and a patch of dried blood fifteen inches in diameter. In this plot the comb, shoes and watch chain were found.

The bushes showed that the body had been dragged from one cleared plot to the other. Both cleared patches, residents of the neighborhood said, were much frequented by picnickers. They thought that picnic parties had been in both patches.

Sunflower on Maple Tree.

Cliffside, N. Y.—In the yard of the home of the victim's father, a sunflower is growing out of the trunk of a maple tree some distance from the house. The plant has a long and a flower is the size of a saucer.
